What is the problem?

National rail systems in Europe work comparatively well – but once you cross a border by train, everything gets more complicated.

The infrastructure, level of service, timetables and ticketing are of poorer quality.

These problems are cross-border, so the EU needs to fix them.

What is #CrossBorderRail?

A 2022 project to cross all the internal borders of the European Union (and Norway and Switzerland) that you can cross by train in one 40-day journey - to highlight the problems and propose solutions

A smaller 2023 project to go back to all of Germany's borders

Where there are no trains any more,
cross the border on a folding bike

What are the specific issues?

Some cross border tracks have fallen into disrepair

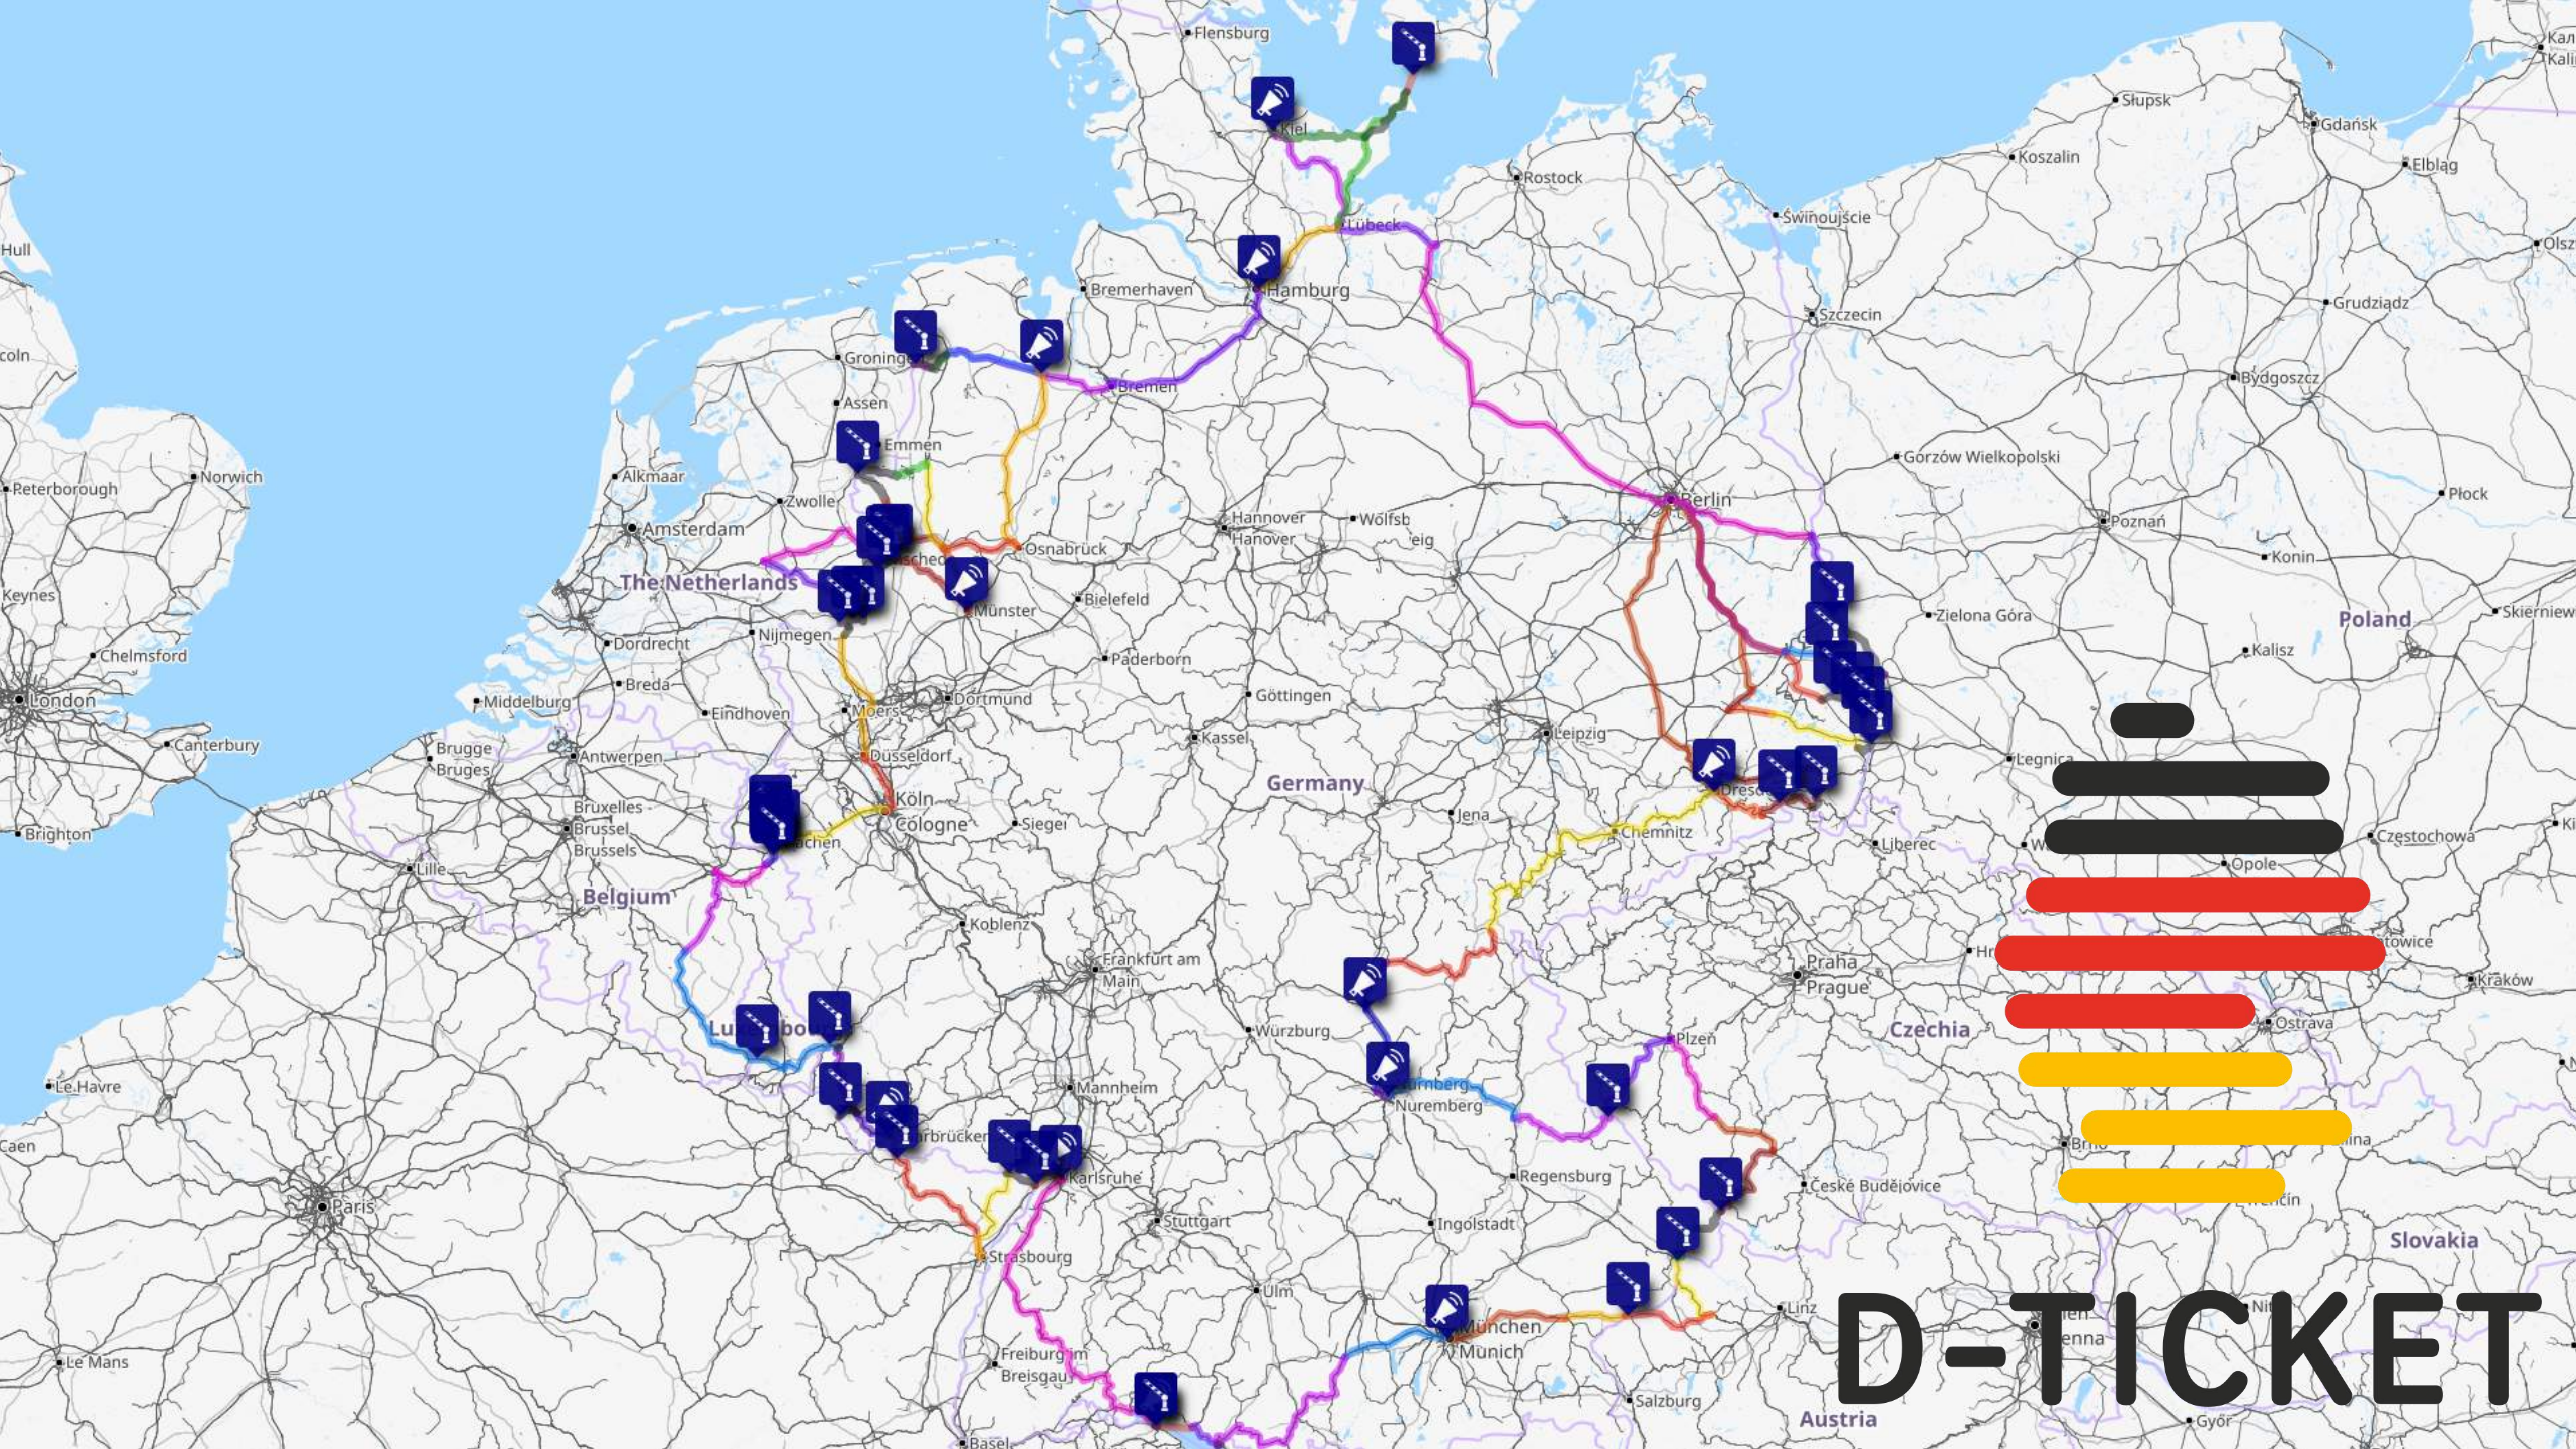

In others tracks exist, but passenger trains do not run

When trains run, timetables are poor

Information or ticketing problems make things complicated
